Empathy Map

This empathy map outlines the core perspective of a credit card applicant. By capturing the user's needs, behaviors, and emotions, it ensures the machine learning framework is directly optimized to deliver faster, more objective, and highly reliable approval decisions..

SAYS	THINKS
- I am looking for a fast and streamlined application process. - I hope my application meets all eligibility criteria. - I want a transparent approval process.	- Will my current credit score negatively impact my approval? - Are my income and documents sufficient? - Will the final decision be objective and unbiased?
PERSONA NAME Credit Card Applicant (Customer/User)
DOES	FEELS
- Submits personal, professional, and financial data online. - Uploads necessary identity and income verification documents. - Monitors the application dashboard for status updates.	Anxious during extended processing and waiting periods. Confident if they possess a strong, established credit profile. Relieved and validated upon receiving a prompt approval decision.
